

INDEPENDENT MARKET VISITS

Shake hands with your new customers...
in their country!

Face-to-face meetings are as important to international business as they are to domestic marketing. When group visits do not match your schedule or target country, our Global Network team can help arrange an Independent Market Visit. VEDP will connect you with one of our 44 in-country consultants who will identify, screen and set appointments with qualified distributors, agents or partners. Our consultants assist with planning, logistics, appointment setting, translation, and trade show support. These well-planned visits are business meetings set up on your behalf, with your input, to save you time and maximize your results.
