LEAP 2027

February 2027 | Riyadh, Saudi Arabia

Registration Deadline | October 30, 2026

LEAP, the world's most attended and fastest growing global technology event, is an annual mega tech conference and exhibition. The event brings together global technology companies, startups, investors, policymakers, and innovators across virtually every tech sector. Previous editions have welcomed over 200,000 attendees. Given its explosive annual growth, LEAP 2027 is widely expected to match or exceed these figures. LEAP also hosts DeepFest, the Middle East's largest AI focused event, co located with LEAP and powered by the Saudi Data and AI Authority. LEAP covers a wide spectrum of emerging technologies, including:

- Artificial Intelligence and Machine Learning
- Cybersecurity
- EdTech
- Fintech
- Gaming and eSports
- HealthTech
- Industry 4.0 and IoT
- Smart Cities
- SpaceTech

We met many representatives from many companies and government organizations. We gained contacts and interest from a number of distributors/partners, as well as potential end users and purchasing customers. It will take us weeks to follow up on all of the leads and opportunities, but this event has the potential to double the sales of our new product in the next year.
